

ETHOS & VALUES

Healthy and Happy Children

We are committed to ensuring that every child in our care is safe and supported to learn and build relationships with their peers and staff in the spacious, purpose-built classrooms and extensive grounds of our historic home in the Coram campus.

Play and Exploration

Our approach to learning is child-centred and play-based. Building on each child's interests, existing knowledge and experiences, we seek to ensure that, with appropriate support, all our children can learn and flourish - while having fun.

An Inclusive Setting

Our goal is to provide high quality education and learning for all children and to value their endeavours and contributions irrespective of gender, race or ability. We take proactive steps to identify and meet the needs of learners and anticipate those needs to provide appropriate learning support within the classroom so that all learners have the opportunity to belong and maximise their learning outcomes alongside their peers.

Specialist Support

We are fortunate to have a highly experienced staff with a passion for learning. Our children also benefit from the expertise of a specialist team of SEND staff and the support, where appropriate, of outside agencies.

Parent Partnerships

We are proud to serve a diverse community in central London. We value the close collaboration with our families, and the strong links we have forged with the wider, local community.

Life-long Learning

We want to give the children in our care the best start in life. By helping each child to thrive intellectually and socially, we can securely set the foundations of the children's educational journeys as lifelong thinkers and learners.

Perina Holness

Perina Holness, Headteacher