Introduction

'Intimate care' is any care which involves washing or carrying out an intimate procedure (such as cleaning up a child after they have soiled themselves). In most cases care will involve cleaning a child for hygiene purposes as part of a staff member's duty of care. In the case of a specific procedure, only a person suitably trained and assessed as competent should undertake the procedure.

These procedures apply to changing a child in a range of circumstances such as:

- When a child has wet or soiled themselves;
- When a child has vomited;
- When a child has become dirty or wet from involvement in play activities e.g. painting or water play

At Thomas Coram Nursery we aim to ensure that all staff responsible for intimate care of children will undertake their duties to the highest professional standard and that all children will be treated with the utmost respect when intimate care is given. No child will be attended to in a way that causes them distress or discomfort.

Adherence to the policy and procedures will safeguard the rights and promote the welfare of children, provide guidance and reassurance to staff whose role includes intimate care, assure parents that staff are knowledgeable about personal care and that their individual concerns are taken into consideration and ensure no child is discriminated against.

Children's intimate care needs cannot be seen in isolation, or separated from other aspects of their lives, so children will be encouraged to participate in their own intimate or personal care.

Approach to best practice

The issue of intimate care is a sensitive one and will require staff to be respectful of children's needs at all times. Children's dignity should always be preserved with a high level of privacy, choice and control when care is required.

There should be a high awareness of child protection issues within this work and the behaviour of staff must be always open to scrutiny. Staff must work in partnership with parents/carers.

It is essential that children are given appropriate opportunities to contribute to their own personal needs - for example, being given the time and encouragement to pull down their clothing or attempt to dress themselves.

Procedures

- Children who may need specialised intimate care have identified staff to support them.
- Staff will be supported to adapt practice in relation to the needs of individual children's developmental stages e.g. toilet training.
- Children will be supported to achieve the highest level of autonomy that is possible given their age and abilities. Staff to encourage each child to do as much for him/herself as he/she can.
- The changing areas around the school are clear and accessible to all members of staff. When staff change children, they ensure other staff are nearby.
- Parents and carers are not allowed to supervise children in the class toilet areas unless they can be closely supervised by a member of staff who will ensure no other children are present.
- Staff will always wear appropriate safety clothing and gloves when dealing with a child needing intimate care.
- All bags containing wet clothes will be tied and a label will state the name of the child, the person who changed them and the reason for the change.
- Appropriate facilities and equipment e.g. nappy bags will be used to dispose of any waste materials and put in the sanitised nappy bins. The bins are emptied twice a week.
- Whenever possible, children will stand in the bathroom, rather than be put down on a changing mat to have their nappies changed as this is age-appropriate for Kinder children and many Toddlers who are toilet training.
- Parents will be asked to provide school with nappies, extra clothing, and encouraged to bring their own Wet-Wipes to be kept in school.
- Parents complete a consent form for prescribed or non-prescribed nappy cream.
- Clear processes and guidance in intimate care should be highlighted to all staff upon their induction. New staff should be given the opportunity to discuss any queries or uncertainties they may have in relation to this policy.

- Under no circumstances should short-term students, work experience volunteers or visitors be asked to give intimate care.
- When providing intimate care, staff should carefully and sensitively observe the child's emotional response and report any concerns to the designated officer.
- Should staff observe any unusual marks or injuries on a child's body etc, these will be reported immediately, following school policies and procedures.
- In the event that intimate care is necessary while children are outside of school on an educational visit, a member of staff must always be present to support toileting. Only members of staff can attend to the intimate needs of any child. Where changing mats are only available in toilet cubicles, the door should be left open with another staff member ensuring privacy.
